Negative effects the environment has towards our skin

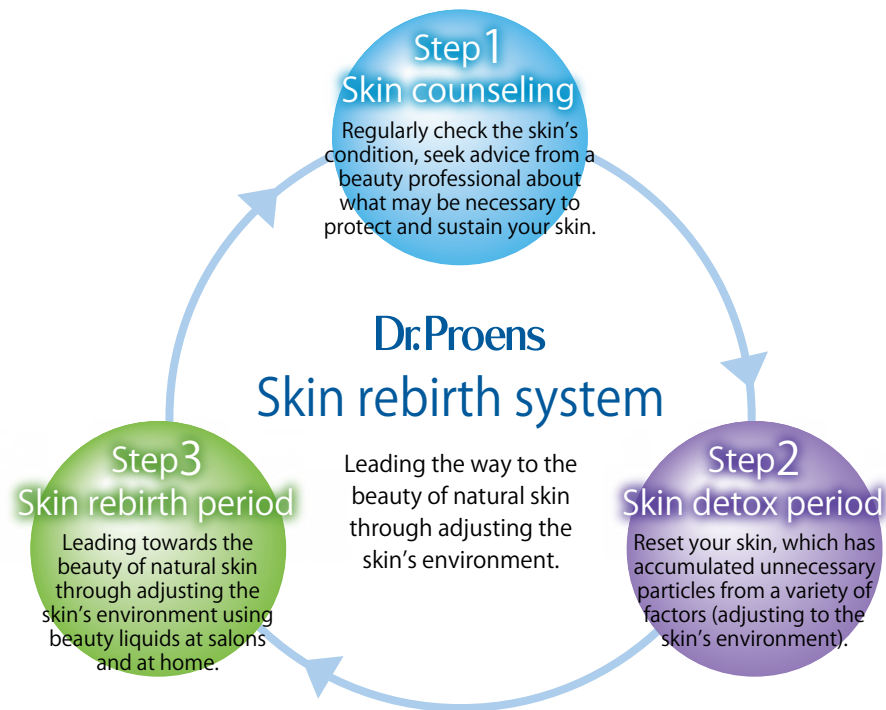

Acne stains (mole), wrinkle, sensitive skin, dehydrated skin, dry skin, accelerated skin aging...

The importance of correcting and fine-tuning the skin's condition A recommended advise by Dr.Proens

It is important to fine-tune the acceptance of ingredients that are greatly needed to nourish the skin and remove the things that are unnecessary which have a negative effect on our skin.

Dr. Proens' "Skin rebirth system" * through methods of "skin counselling" + "skin detox period" + "skin rebirth period"

* The "Skin renewal system" is a system that was jointly developed by Medical Consultant Doctor Proens and Doctor Moriwaki Maichi of the Dermatology Department at Osaka Medical University.

Step1 Skin counseling

There is a cycle in women's skin every month, every year, and every lifetime. In addition, the skin changes sensitively based on the weather season and hormone imbalance. The condition of one's skin is difficult to understand and comprehend as one individual's skin is different than the other. Everyone struggles to understand their own skin. According to Dr. Proens, beauty professionals can undertake counselling and offer cosmetic products and skincare that may be necessary for you.

Step2 Skin detox period

A difference in results even while using the same cosmetic products...

The cause is the skin's environment. The difference in results is similar to the differences in the color, gloss, and taste if you consider crops grown in "good soil" with those grown in "bad soil."

Quickly remove dirt that has accumulated on the skin because of the deterioration in the modern-day environment which cannot be removed by normal skincare products. Adjust the skin's environment by returning to a normal skin care cycle*. Adjusting the texture will lead to skin renewal with a feeling of clarity, drawing the best results from your skin care from then on.

Step3 Skin rebirth period

Categorize skin problems, managing with various skin attributes.

Skin problems vary by individual. In order to respond to their skin problems, Doctor Proens analyses women's skin thoroughly to select the right serum to correspond to their various skin types.

*The skin care cycle refers to the turnover of the epithelium.

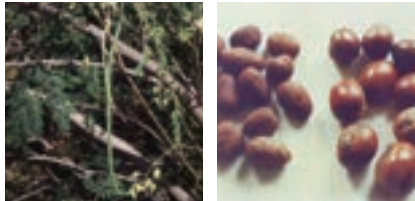

Three great merits of Dr. Proens' Skincare Line

1. The single combination of DT ingredients and adjusting the skin's environment*1

Substances such as nicotine, heavy metals, and dust contaminates the skin and is a cause of various problems for the skin. These substances can be removed from your skin, which can then easily aid the skin to accept the essential ingredients of our skin care line.

*1 Wasabi seed extract, Shea butter extracts (skin maintenance ingredients)
